Top 50 Spirits of 2014

Standouts from the Spirit Realm

By Kara Newman

Of the hundreds of spirits reviewed for this year’s Spirit Buying Guides, this list represents 50 of the best picks.

It’s a particularly diverse group this year, spanning a number of categories, provenances and flavor profiles. Of course, it’s not comprehensive; only categories reviewed this year are eligible for inclusion, so unflavored vodkas, for example, aren’t strongly represented here, although they had a strong showing in 2013.

The diversity extends to bottle prices as well, which range from $425 for a rare, hop-flavored American whiskey down to $17 for an amazingly refreshing cucumber vodka. “Top” in this context isn’t meant to be synonymous with most expensive, oldest or most rare—instead, it signifies best-in-breed, whatever the breed happens to be.

So, in addition to classically styled whiskies, rums, Tequilas and more, some delightful oddballs enter the mix. Carrot eau-de-vie? Peanut butter-and-jelly flavored vodka? An Indian-spiced cream liqueur? Yes to all three—bold flavors and a lot of fun are coming off the stills these days.

Whether your taste runs to well-made cocktails or straight-up sippers, at least one of these exceptional bottles deserves space on your home bar. Turn the page to discover your new best bar friend.
Amaro

97 Amaro Montenegro (Italy; Total Beverage Solutions, Mount Pleasant, SC). One of the lightest and gentlest amari, this amber spirit delicately mixes sarsaparilla-like herbal notes and honey sweetness with just the right bitter edge. Mix it into cocktails—mixologists love this amaro—or sip it as a delightful digestif.

Price: $29*

96 Amaro Nonino (Italy; Terlato Wines International, Hoboken, NJ). Tawny and bright in the glass, this mellow, bittersweet beauty offers caramel and vanilla, braced by allspice and bitter orange. Although Nonino is best known for its grappas, this amaro, flavored with herbs from the mountains of Friuli, is worth seeking out. Consider it for dessert pairings or an edgy spin on a negroni.

Price: $54*

94 Ramazzotti Amaro (Italy; Evaton, Stamford, CT). Although it appears dark, inky and sinister in the glass, this amaro is on the sweet and gentle side. Think ripe plums, dark berries and cola, with a pleasingly spiced finish and just the faintest bitter edge. It’s enjoyable to sip straight up with a twist of lemon peel, or lightened with a splash of club soda.

Price: $25*

97 Wild Turkey Diamond Anniversary (USA; Wild Turkey, Lawrenceburg, KY). Made from a blend of very rare 13- to 16-year-old whiskies, this bottling pays tribute to Master Distiller Jimmy Russell’s 60 years at the Wild Turkey Distillery. This light, silky Bourbon shows lots of vanilla-maple and brown sugar flavors accented by a hint of peach, and tapers off delicately, with clove, cinnamon, ginger and burnt orange peel notes on the finish.

Price: $125*

96 Blanton’s Single Barrel Bourbon Whiskey (USA; Sazerac Company; Frankfort, KY). Bold and well-structured, this Bourbon features warming vanilla and caramel accented by orange peel, stone fruit and a dry baking-sprite finish. Sip it with a chunk of ice, or mix up a round of juleps. The trademark round, faceted bottle with the horsetopped cork is perfect for Derby Day.

Price: $55*

95 Booker’s Bourbon (USA; Jim Distilling, Clermont, KY). This uncut, barrel-strength Bourbon is bold and flavorful. The caramel aroma is rich and luxu. On the palate, it’s quite tannic and drying, but the flavor shines through, showing toffee, caramel and dried cherry, with a spicy finish of clove, dried fig and date. The alcohol feels remarkably balanced despite the high proof. It needs no adornment: just add a chunk of ice and enjoy.

Bourbon

97 Old Forester Birthday Bourbon 2013 Bottling (USA; Brown-Forman, Louisville, KY). This limited-edition bottling is released once a year, on Sept. 2, the birthdate of Old Forester founder George Garvin Brown. This one, aged 12 years, was bottled in 2013. It’s bold, aromatic and sweet on the palate, with notes of toffee, oak and red fruit. It finishes long and spicy. Though it feels a bit hot, it settles down with a modest amount of water into a warming, flavorful sip.

Price: $55*

94 Oola Waitsburg Bourbon Whiskey (USA; Oola Distillery, Seattle, WA). Surprisingly evolved for a three-year-old whiskey, this one has a four-grain mash bill (corn, wheat, barley and rye). It’s on the sweeter side, with notes of caramel and hazelnut interspersed with orange peel and spice. It’s mouth-watering, and would be particularly good in an old-fashioned or other cocktails.

Price: $50*

Brandy

95 Vecchia Romagna Riserva (Italy; Total Beverage Solutions, Mount Pleasant, SC). Rivaling fine French brandies of similar age (10 years), this riserva is scented with honey and dates. On the palate, complex flavors run to dried fruit, oak and spice. The trademark round, faceted bottle with the horse-topped cork is perfect for Derby Day.

*abv: 40%
Price: $40*

94 Dominique Brandy Italiano Riserva (Italy; Caffo Beverages, Carlstadt, NJ). Burnished gold in color, this soft Friuli brandy, aged for more than three years, hints at golden raisins drizzled with honey, dried apricots and figs, and ripe pears. Use this warming sipper to spike a dessert, or serve it alongside the grand finale to a meal.

Eau de Vie

Reisetbauer Carrot (Austria; Michael Skurnik Wines, Syosset, NY). Fresh, clean and lightly vegetal—but not outright carotty—this palate-cleanser of an eau de vie will remind some of a delicate aquavit. It would be dynamite in a refined take on a bloody mary with tomato water instead of to cleanser of an eau de vie will remind some of a deli-

Flavored Whiskey

Charbay Hop Flavored Whiskey—Release III 1999 (USA; Charbay Distillers, Ukiah, CA). Double-distilled from Pilsner beer, flavored with hops and aged for 14 years (six years in oak, eight years out of oak), this limited-edition whiskey isn’t for everyone. It’s powerful, big and oaky on the palate, with lots of tannins rounding out into vanilla, honey and sweet-yet-bitter orange peel. Bottled at an over-the-top 132 proof, it needs a lot of dilution, but once the alcohol is tamed, an enticing velvetiness emerges. It would make a wild Manhattan.

Size: 375 ml
Price: $42

Bourbon Barrel Gin (USA; Watershed Distillery, Columbus, OH). Infused with citrus peel and spices, then aged in a former Bourbon barrel for 12 months, this mellow, soft gin has lots of body. Look for a good dose of vanilla chased by cinnamon heat, plus touches of honey, oak and citrus on the finish. With a splash of simple syrup, this complex, golden gin is almost a cocktail on its own.

Size: 750 ml
Price: $40

Irish Whiskey

Bushmills Black Bush (Ireland; Diageo, Nor walk, CT). This elegant, super-soft sipper is a blend of grain whiskey and malt whiskey that was finished in oloroso Sherry casks—the emphasis on the latter. The Sherry influence shows in the baked apple and dried apricot flavors that round into caramel and butterscotch tones on the finish.

Size: 750 ml
Price: $29

2 Gingers Irish Whiskey (Ireland; Beam Inc., Deerfield, IL). A newcomer to the marketplace, this velvet, blended Irish whiskey offers sweet, maltsy flavors that incorporate baked apple, honey and warm butterscotch.

Size: 750 ml
Price: $20

Jameson Select Reserve Black Barrel (Ireland; Pernod Ricard, New York, NY). Like a liquid (if boozy) apple pie, this blended whiskey offers bold, rich aromatics, with lots of dried and stewed fruit flavors and butterscotch. The draw

Japanese Whisky

Taketsuru Pure Malt 21 Year Old (Japan; Anchor Distilling, San Francisco, CA). Scented with honey and dried apricots, this blended Japanese whisky is remarkably soft for a 21-year-old bottling, with just the evidence of oak tannins as a reminder of age. Complex flavors included mellow, rounded vanilla and caramel, peach and apricot, orange peel, plus a light cover of smoke fading to toffee and citrus on the long finish.

Liqueurs

Caffo Solara (Italy; Caffo Beverages, Carlstadt, NJ). Made with brandy and oranges from southern Italy, this orange liqueur is rich and authentic, with orange peel and blossom aromas and flavors as well as a long, vanilla-forward finish. A flicker of alcohol-derived heat balances out the sweetness. Savor it as a delicious finish to a meal or use it as a versatile cocktail mixer.

Size: 750 ml
Price: $27
95 Rain City Spirits DRIP Coffee Liqueur (USA; Rain City Spirits, Seattle, WA). Made with local cold-brewed coffee, cane sugar and Rain City’s vodka, this liqueur has a bold, authentic coffee aroma and flavor, with light sweetness and a slightly creamy mouthfeel. Just add cream for a head start on a white Russian-style cocktail. Best Buy.

*Price: $22

94 Sōmrus Indian Cream Liqueur (USA; Som-Priya Fine Spirits, New York, NY). This unusual rum-based liqueur hints at exotic cardamom, almond and rosewater. It’s creamy but light, and would be a palate-cleansing way to end a richly spiced meal. The ornate gold and red bottle is an eye-catcher, too. Sip it or try the producer’s recommendation to serve frozen into a “kulfisicle.”

*Price: $25

93 Marie Brizard Orange Curacao (France; The Other Wine and Spirits, Miami, FL). Made with bitter orange from Haiti and Cognac, this is an orange liqueur with a dark side. It has a deep amber hue and a robust, enticing orange-peel scent. On the palate, it’s appropriately thick and syrupy, bursting with orange peel and fruit, burnt orange peel, almond and vanilla. Would work particularly well in cocktails to sweeten dark spirits like aged brandy or rye whiskey. Best Buy.

*Price: $20

98 Appleton Estate Aged 21 Years (Jamaica; Campari America, San Francisco, CA). This gorgeous copper-hued rum seems to shift flavors with every sip, encouraging contemplation. It starts with dry notes of espresso and bittersweet chocolate, then morphs into dark, mouthwatering brown sugar, toffee and clove, before easing into a spiced finish reminiscent of chai tea with a hint of white peach.

*Price: $140

97 Facundo Paraíso XA Rum (Bahamas; Bacardi USA, Coral Gables, FL). Nut-brown in the glass, this conveys deep toffee, espresso and fudge notes, plus a heady sprinkling of baking spice. The finish is dry and spiced, flaunting dried orange peel and a light Sherrried note. The hefty, decorative bottle features images of the original Bacardi distillery and the Edificio Bacardi in Cuba. Part of a special-edition rum line intended to honor the founder of Bacardi and 150 years of rum-making.

*Price: $250

96 Cockspur Old Gold (Barbados; Cockspur USA, Manhasset, NY). Bold and flavorful, this amber sipping rum offers sweet allspice, birch beer, brown sugar and caramel, plus darker notes of espresso and fudge. Finishes long, with a delicately spicy fade. Best Buy.

*Price: $21

95 Smith & Cross Traditional Jamaica Rum (Jamaica; Haus Alpenz, Edina, MN). A top pick for tiki and tropical drinks, this practically begs for lime juice. Scented with warm honey notes, the palate shows lots of brown sugar and spice, plus an enticingly untamed, funky finish (the fabled hogo). Since it’s “navy strength,” you might not want to sip it straight up—the producer wisely recommends exploring the profile first in a daiquiri—though it’s smooth and interesting enough if you want to try.

*Price: $29

94 Mount Gay Black Barrel (Barbados; Remy Cointreau, New York, NY). Finished in “deeply toasted and charred” Bourbon casks, this mouthwatering small-batch rum skews to the sweeter side, offering bold notes of cola, allspice and vanilla, finishing brisk and spicy. Sip straight or mix for the ultimate rum and Coke.

*Price: $30

94 Old Reserve 2001 Plantation Rum Jamaica (Jamaica; Deutsch Family Wines & Spirits, White Plains, NY). This honey-hued rum is richly aromatic, suggesting creamy caramel and baking spice, with just a hint of banana in the background. On the palate, look for lots of spicy fireworks upfront—black pepper, hot cinnamon, clove—followed by a gentle fade of brown sugar and butterscotch. Mix for a mind-blowing mai tai.

*abv: 42%
*Price: $45

93 Brinley Gold Shipwreck Vanilla Rum (St. Kitts; Market Street Spirits, Glen Rock, NJ). Blended with Madagascar vanilla extract, this flavored rum has a mild, oaky aroma, a rounded, robust vanilla-bean flavor touched with coffee and a cinnamon zing.

*Price: $26

98 The Classic Cask Rare Scotch Whisky Single Batch 40 (Scotland; Spirit Imports, Sunrise, FL). Distilled in 1972 and bottled in 2012, this 40-year-old blended Scotch is special. The nut-brown hue and rich aromas of sweet spice and brown sugar hint at what’s to come. It delivers bold, complex flavor: rounded toffee, allspice, leather, tea and oak, with a mouthwatering saline note and a long but gentle finish.

*abv: 43%
*Price: $400

96 Chivas Regal 18 Years (Scotland; Pernod Ricard, New York, NY). Amber and bright in the glass, this 18-year-old blended whisky melds vanilla, cigar wrapper and chamomile tea notes with nutmeg and cinnamon spice, plus a delicate puff of sweet smoke. Feels light and silky, finishes long and gently.

*Price: $75
Tequila

Dewar’s 18 (Scotland; Bacardi USA, Coral Gables, FL). This golden blended Scotch is remarkably complex, showing creamy vanilla, créme brûlée, almond before tapering to dry, warm notes of cedar, sandalwood and clove. Finishes long and feather-light, with just a trace of smokiness.

abv: 40%  Price: $80

Big Peat (Scotland; International Spirits & Wines, Mt. Kisco, NY). The name says it all: this Scotch is blended from “a shovelful” of Islay single malts, including Ardbeg, Caol Ila, Bowmore and Port Ellen—producers of some of the peatiest Scotches around. The bold iodine aroma is like breathing salt air at the seashore, and is just subtly smoky. On the palate, expect fleeting vanilla sweetness followed by a huge rush of peat smoke, which pulls back to finish with campfire s’mores and bitter sweetness. A perfect choice for pitching a tent—plus this Scotch is blended from “a shovelful” of Islay single malts, including Ardbeg, Caol Ila, Bowmore and Port Ellen—producers of some of the peatiest Scotches around. The bold iodine aroma is like breathing salt air at the seashore, and is just subtly smoky. On the palate, expect fleeting vanilla sweetness followed by a huge rush of peat smoke, which pulls back to finish with campfire s’mores and bitter sweetness.

abv: 46%  Price: $60

The Fat Trout Blended Scotch Whisky (Scotland; BH Group USA Imports, Manhasset, NY). Bright gold in the glass, this whisky offers vanilla and fresh-cut grass aromatics. It’s similarly light and fresh on the palate, with touches of oak, vanilla and a fleeting tropical fruit note, finishing with a faint salt-air touch. The label makes this bottle a fun gift for a favorite fishing enthusiast.

abv: 40%  Price: $25

Reserva Tequila Partida Blanco (Mexico; Partida Tequila, San Francisco, CA). This elegant blanco features gentle floral notes, agave sweetness and a refreshing touch of minerality, finishing crisp and peppy. Shows surprising finesse for an unaged Tequila.

abv: 40%  Price: $40

Tequila Don Ramon Añejo (Mexico; ER Distributors, San Antonio, TX). Soft and well-structured, this aged Tequila mixes spicy and sweet to delightful effect. Long honey notes linger on the tongue, tapering off with a welcome touch of cayenne-ginger heat. Sip straight up or pair with Mexican dishes with bold flavors.

abv: 40%  Price: $24

Cruz Silver Tequila (Mexico; Los Diablos Int'l, Scottsdale, AZ). A refined, classic take on blanco, this Tequila has a soft feel and rounded agave sweetness. The peppery heat—more cayenne and cinnamon than vegetal jalapeño—is muted at first, but builds with repeated sips.

abv: 40%  Price: $45

Casamigos Tequila Blanco (Mexico; Sidney Frank Importing Company, Inc, New Rochelle, NY). Co-owned by actor George Clooney and nightlife impresario Rande Gerber, this blanco is smooth and light. The aromas are restrained, but on the palate look for mild agave sweetness backed by lemon zest, ginger and white pepper sparks, plus a candied lemon-peel note on the gentle exit.

abv: 40%  Price: $43

Tequila Gran Dovejo Blanco (Mexico; Mendez Imports, Dixon, CA). Inside the handsome, hefty bottle are spice-rack aromas. But the flavors are light and complex, interlacing honey with lime zest, mineral and faint white flowers that float off at the end. A top pick for pitchers of high-end margaritas.

abv: 40%  Price: $44

Van Gogh PB&J Vodka (Holland; Van Gogh Imports, Orlando, FL). Give this ode to a childhood favorite a chance. Clear in the glass, it has an enticing scent that evokes an actual peanut butter and jelly sandwich. It’s very sweet on the palate, dominated by the peanut flavor, though the grape flavor comes through on the finish. It’s addictive and makes for wonderfully campy cocktail ideas, including dessert drinks.

abv: 35%  Price: $27

Devotion Vodka Wild Cherry (USA; Devotion Spirits, Bridgeport, PA). The succulent aroma, like black cherries in syrup from a can, ready for cherry pie, makes this vodka remarkable. The flavor is almost completely neutral, with just the faintest suggestion of cherry in the brisk finish.

abv: 40%  Price: $20

Belvedere Mango Passion (Poland; Möet Hennessy USA, New York, NY). The bouquet offers aromas of mango and orange segments. On the palate, expect just a suggestion of fruitiness, with mango juiciness around the edges and into the gentle finish, rather than full-on fruit. As a result, it’s well-structured for sipping (if you don’t have a sweet tooth) or mixing (if you do).

---

Vodka

Crop Organic Spiced Pumpkin Vodka (USA; Chatham Imports, New York, NY). A must-have for autumn cocktails, this amber-hued vodka is redolent of pumpkin pie and baking spices, and has a slight vanilla sweetness. Rich and full-bodied, some might mistake this for pumpkin-flavored whiskey rather than vodka.

abv: 35%  Price: $28

Rain Cucumber Vodka (USA; Sazerac Co., Frankfort, KY). Light, fresh and just faintly sweet, this flavored vodka has spa-like notes of cucumber and lime peel. Smooth sipping, especially when chilled, and a natural for spring and summer cocktails.

abv: 30%  Price: $17

Van Gogh PB&J Vodka (Holland; Van Gogh Imports, Orlando, FL). Give this ode to a childhood favorite a chance. Clear in the glass, it has an enticing scent that evokes an actual peanut butter and jelly sandwich. It’s very sweet on the palate, dominated by the peanut flavor, though the grape flavor comes through on the finish. It’s addictive and makes for wonderfully campy cocktail ideas, including dessert drinks.
